Female viewers turning on, tuning in to 'cerebral hunks'

By John Crook
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Cover story

It may be the ultimate irony that, despite a sex-drenched programming lineup on the U.S. commercial networks, female viewers in growing numbers are having hot flashes over programs on PBS and A&E Network.

Call them "cerebral hunks," if you like, those actors in PBS' "Mystery!" and "Masterpiece Theatre" entries and A&E's award-winning literary adaptations who are generating real heat with women in the audience.

"This is kind of a new trend, the detective as hunk," Rebecca Eaton, executive producer for both "Mystery!" and "Masterpiece Theatre" on PBS, says with a laugh. "Others like Dalgliesh and Morse (Roy Marsden, John Thaw) struck a chord with female viewers, but this new thing of having a truly cool dude, a chiseled, buff, hot guy, is new for "Mystery!""

The latest candidate to become a thinking woman's sex symbol is Clive Owen, a newcomer who stars in "Second Sight," premiering Thursday, Sept. 30, on PBS. The three-hour, two-part "Mystery!" thriller casts Owen as Detective Chief Inspector Ross Tanner, a divorced cop on the career fast track until a rare, incurable eye disorder begins intermittently and unpredictably robbing him of his vision.

"Ross Tanner falls into our 'wounded hunk' category, along with Robson Green ("Touching Evil") and even Trevor Eve ("Heat of the Sun")," Eaton explains. "They all are loners, and they all have some sort of secret, some trouble in their past.

A&E had a "stud-muffin eruption" late last season with Welsh actor Ioan Gruffudd in the role of Horatio Hornblower. This time, Fine says, she was prepared for the avalanche of fan reaction, partly because of unprecedented activity on the A&E Website even before the series of TV movies premiered. But she had a more personal secret weapon as well.

"The response to Ioan was massive, but I had an in-house early warning system that that was going to happen: I have a daughter who is now 15, and she went with me to Portugal to see some of the shooting," she recalls with a chuckle. "Her reaction was very clear: 'Incoming!' "

Fine and Eaton both agree that the actors in question are more than mere eye candy for female viewers.

"It's a combination of an actor getting an extraordinary chance to play a role and the actor having the strength, the chops, to pull off something very daunting," Fine says. "The risks are enormous, but the rewards can be even greater."

Future looks bright for Lucas Black

By Taylor Michaels
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

What has become of Lucas Black, the talented young man who played Caleb Temple on "American Gothic"? He looked as if he had a promising career. -Ann Blackburn, San Marcos, Texas.

He still does, although he has said more than once that he really wants to be a bass fisherman when he grows up. Now 16, the Alabama native has been highly visible in movies since "Gothic" was canceled due to low ratings in 1996.

He had a major role in the Oscar-winning drama "Sling Blade," appeared in last year's big-screen adaptation of "The X-Files" and is prominently featured in the new Melanie Griffith movie "Crazy in Alabama."

Black also co-stars with Matt Damon in the much-anticipated movie "All the Pretty Horses," scheduled for release next year and directed by his old "Sling Blade" colleague, Billy Bob Thornton.

Pipeline

Before he appeared on "Working," I remember seeing Maurice Godin in another sitcom set in Paris. Can you tell me the name of that show? -H.S., Red Bluff, Calif.

Yes, you're thinking of "Cafe Americain," a short-lived NBC sitcom that aired during the 1993-94 season. The show took its title from the name of a Paris cafe where Minneapolis divorcee Holly Aldridge (Valerie Bertinelli) worked while trying to put her life back together. Godin co-starred as Marcel, a mineral-water executive who was Holly's friend and occasional romantic interest.

I enjoyed "Introducing Dorothy Dandridge" on HBO. Dandridge's "Carmen Jones" is shown regularly. Are there plans to screen her movie "Porgy and Bess"? -Leah via e-mail.

Not likely. The Gershwin family loathed this film version, complaining that executive producer Samuel Goldwyn had "Hollywoodized" it too much. All copies of the film were withdrawn after the first TV broadcast in the 1960s.

SUNDAY'S BEST BETS

Touched by an Angel
7 P.M. ON CBS

The political gets personal for Sen. Katherine Cooper (guest star Lindsay Crouse) in the season premiere, "Such a Time as This." She balks when the angels ask her to help expose a slavery situation in Sudan, saying it's not important to people in her district. But her son and husband get wind of the issue, forcing her to examine her compulsion to keep quiet about the atrocities. Roma Downey, Della Reese and John Dye star.

Snoops
8 P.M. ON ABC

A technology-savvy private detective agency is the setting for this new dramedy from producer David E. Kelley ("Ally McBeal"). Gina Gershon ("Face/Off") stars as the agency's sharp, cynical owner, Glenn Hall, with Paula Marshall ("Cupid") as the new snoop in town, Dana Plant, a police detective looking for a change. In "Pilot," Dana gets a tense reception from her new coworkers, bright but ballistic Manny and insecure Roberta (Danny Nucci, Paula Jai Parker). Edward Kerr also stars.

Saturday Night Live: The 25th Anniversary
8 P.M. ON NBC

It doesn't actually start its 25th season for another year, but being ahead of its time is what this groundbreaking comedy series is all about. All surviving former cast members have been invited to take part in this celebration, which promises a healthy dose of classic clips from the Chevy Chase years through the Eddie Murphy, Billy Crystal and Mike Myers eras to the present. And as in the show itself, there will be musical acts to break up the comedy.

Roma Downey
TOUCHED BY AN ANGEL

Jack & Jill
8 P.M. ON WB

This new 20-somethings-in-the-city dramedy seasons its blend of ingredients from "Friends" and "Suddenly Susan" with a little verbal gender-bending. Wronged bride Jacqueline "Jack" Barrett (Amanda Peet) flees to New York and becomes the neighbor of aspiring toy designer David "Jill" Jillefsky (Ivan Sergei). They look like a perfect couple waiting to happen, but there are a few complications — such as Jack's budding friendship with Jill's current flame (Sarah Paulson). Jaime Pressly, Justin Kirk and Simon Rex also star in "Pilot."

The Practice
9 P.M. ON ABC

The identity of the assailant in nun's clothing who stabbed Lindsay (Kelli Williams) comes as a shock, especially to Ellenor (Camryn Manheim), in the season premiere. Bobby and Jimmy (Dylan McDermott, Michael Badalucco) make some shocking discoveries of their own when they defend Jimmy's dentist on a charge of killing a female patient. Henry Winkler guest stars in "Free Dental."

"Maury" returns after a good summer

By Lorri Antosz Benson
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Summer was kind to Maury Povich and his talk show.

After landing a new syndicator last season, "Maury" hit a ratings high during the sweeps period in July. To mark this accomplishment, the talk show host invited his staff to his Montana ranch to celebrate.

The life of outdoor adventure may not have been for everyone, however. The show's executive producer was overheard asking a coworker, "Can you wear Gucci loafers on a white-water raft?" as she boarded the airplane for Big Sky country.

People are still talking about Regis Philbin's sleeper hit of the summer"," "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire?" Seems Philbin has found another sideline to his bread-and-butter morning talk show with Kathie Lee Gifford.

The dramatic game show, which gives contestants a chance to earn big bucks in minutes, aired for two weeks on ABC and impressed many with its ratings.

While there are no plans to change it into a weekday series such as "Jeopardy!" or "Wheel of Fortune," executives at "Electronic Media" say it's likely the show will return four or five times a year as a two-week event.

Talk the Talk

Now that ABC knows viewers respond to "a million reasons to watch," "Millionaire" is sure to show up during ratings periods. Insiders are betting on a November return.

Ricki Lake's fall launch was a humdinger. It featured relatives and siblings who are in rival gangs.

Guests said they would kill even their own brothers if gang politics demanded it. Lake called on the Slick Boys — gang members-turned-Chicago cops — who specialize in gang intervention. The Boys took the gangbangers out on the town together, reminding them of their real family ties.

"The exercise was a huge success," says Gail Steinberg, the show's executive producer. "The boys were saying, 'We haven't played like this since we were kids. What a great guy he is.' This is just what we were hoping would happen."

By the end of the show, all the guests renounced their gang ties and vowed to stop wearing the "colors" — the first step in leaving a gang.

One guest even agreed to a makeover and nixed the baggy pants and gang regalia for a preppy pair of khakis and a polo shirt.

Steinberg reports that since the taping, none of the participants has gone back to gang life. Furthermore, the Slick Boys, who invited the guests on a national anti-gang tour this year, are proceeding full steam ahead with their plans. Don't you just love a happy ending?

MONDAY'S BEST BETS

Intimate Portrait
2 P.M. ON LIFE

"Clare Boothe Luce" remembers a woman who blazed a feminist trail not by carrying a protest sign, but by setting an example. Her marriages opened some doors, but she did all the work herself, becoming a managing editor of a magazine, a war correspondent, a member of Congress and an ambassador when such jobs rarely went to women. The closest she came to protesting was writing a hit play, "The Women," about discrimination in the publishing industry.

Biography
7 P.M. ON A&E

Tim Conway has been making us laugh since 1961. That's when he made his network debut with Steve Allen, who heard about the then-local TV comic from Rose Marie ("The Dick Van Dyke Show"). From there, Conway went on to play Ensign Parker in "McHale's Navy," a variety of unforgettable characters on "The Carol Burnett Show" and the title character in a string of goofy "Dorf" sports spoofs. Burnett, Allen, "McHale's" star Ernest Borgnine and others talk about their comical colleague in "Tim Conway: Just Clowning Around."

Movie: City of Angels
7 P.M. ON HBO

This tear-jerking 1998 romance gives a whole new meaning to "touched by an angel." Nicolas Cage plays Seth, a celestial helper who finds himself feeling some very human emotions toward the beautiful surgeon (Meg Ryan) whom he's been helping to cope with the loss of a patient. But this match made outside heaven has no future unless Seth hangs up his wings and becomes mortal. Andre Braugher ("Homicide: Life on the Street") also stars.

Ted Danson
BECKER

NFL Football
8 P.M. ON ABC

The San Francisco 49ers, the NFL's winningest team in the '90s, visit the Arizona Cardinals, a team still learning how to win after making the playoffs last season. The 49ers' 109-35 record this decade is a testament to consistent excellence, and with quarterback Steve Young and receiver Jerry Rice still performing, the winning should continue this season. Led by Jake Plummer, whose 3,737 passing yards in 1998 ranked third in the NFC, the Cardinals hope to parlay a wild-card victory over Dallas last January into another playoff appearance.

Becker
8:30 P.M. ON CBS

A stressful day at the office has the newly smoke-free John (Ted Danson) ready to rejoin the ranks of buttheads. Salvation comes in the form of a visiting friend of Reggie's (Terry Farrell), with whom he finds a more enjoyable activity. But is the nicotine fiend in danger of becoming a sex fiend? Hattie Winston also stars in "Imm-Oral Fixations."

TUESDAY'S BEST BETS

JAG
7 P.M. ON CBS

Harm (David James Elliott) finds himself on the same side as Lt. Cmdr. Mic Brumby (Trevor Goddard), not one of his favorite people, when Lt. Andy Buxton insists both men represent him at his court-martial for killing Russian peacekeepers in Kosovo. The circumstances also prevent Harm from testifying against Buxton at the trial, which is being closely watched by both the Navy and the Russians.

Just Shoot Me
7 P.M. ON NBC

An article about lost loves sends Elliott (Enrico Colantoni) on a melancholy journey down memory lane, accompanied by a kicking and screaming Nina (Wendie Malick). Turns out she was the hit-and-run driver responsible for his losing the love of his life 15 years ago. Speaking of lost love, immigration officials threaten to throw a monkey wrench into Finch's (David Spade) marriage to Adrienne (Rebecca Romijn-Stamos) in "When Nina Met Elliott." George Segal also stars.

Buffy the Vampire Slayer
7 P.M. ON WB

Get ready for next week's season premiere with a reprise of last season's two-part finale, "Graduation Day." As the end of school approaches and Angel (David Boreanaz) lies near death from poisoning, Buffy defies the Watchers Council in an effort to stop the mayor (Harry Groener) from transforming into a world-destroying demon.

George Segal
JUST SHOOT ME

Elia Kazan: A Director's Journey
7 P.M. ON AMC

This hourlong encore profile reviews the career of the Greek-born director who never shied away from touchy subjects. He earned one of his two best director Oscars for "Gentleman's Agreement," a brutally honest look at anti-Semitism released only two years after World War II. A screening of one of his most scandalous films, 1956's erotic, disturbing "Baby Doll" follows.

It's Like, You Know ...
7:30 P.M. ON ABC

The veddy British Ian Abercrombie narrates "Enchanted April," a delightful documentary spoof chronicling the end of Robbie's first serious relationship. The breakup made history as Los Angeles' first case of a woman dumping a wealthy, handsome, nice guy. The "mockumentary" has interviews with Shrug, Jennifer, Arthur and even Lauren, who didn't know Robbie then.

Frontline
8 P.M. ON PBS

His is a life story that can't be told in the standard hourlong profile, so a generous 2 1/2 hours have been allotted for "John Paul II: The Millennial Pope." Set up in seven "acts," the ambitious biography traces how the man born Karol Wojtyla in 1920 has been shaped by his Polish heritage, his experiences during World War II and under communism, and of course, his faith. Interviews with those who know him best help put his often-controversial positions in the context of those early influences.

College Football
7 P.M. ON ESPN

Georgia Tech, coming off its most successful season since 1990, entertains an up-and-coming Maryland squad in a clash of ACC rivals. The Yellow Jackets return 15 starters from a 1998 team that shared the ACC title with Florida State, headlined by senior quarterback Joe Hamilton, who tossed for 17 touchdowns and 2,166 yards last season. After two years of rebuilding, the Terps are ready to make gains in the win column after ranking among the nation's most improved teams in total scoring and passing defense a year ago.
